

Every penny counts: little ways you can donate painlessly to One Heart Bulgaria

There are ways to give to One Heart Bulgaria without spending a dime!

- Want to help Bulgarian orphans just by surfing the internet?

GoodSearch.com, as seen in Oprah Magazine, ABC News, and The New York Times, is a new search engine that donates half its revenue, about a penny per search, to the charities its users designate. You use it just as you would any search engine, and it's powered by Yahoo!, so you get great results.

1. Go to www.goodsearch.com
2. Enter ONE HEART BULGARIA as the charity you want to support.
3. Download the GoodSearch toolbar and start searching away on the internet! You don't have to change anything else about your tool bar, this is simply an addition to what your tool bar already has. It will not replace your google tool bar.

Just 500 of us searching four times a day will raise about $7300 in a year without anyone spending a dime! This is a simple and free way you can contribute to the Bulgarian orphans on a daily basis through your everyday acitons.

“Kid power” celebrates young folks’ contributions

We are grateful for all the kids, teenagers and their parents who contact One Heart Bulgaria with the desire to help the Bulgarian orphans in whatever way they can. These kids can have a powerful impact with fundraising efforts and truly make a difference for the orphans. In addition, the kids and their parents find that these projects change their own lives—invoking feelings of gratitude for their own abundant lifestyles; empowerment to make worthwhile changes in the forgotten corners of the world; and charity as they work hard to sacrifice for the unfortunate.

Recognition of “Kid Power” projects on our website and in our newsletters is our way of saying “thank you” to kids who have implemented their own fundraising ideas or ideas from One Heart Bulgaria in order to help the Bulgarian orphans.

Some of these kids and teenagers are former Bulgarian orphans, now living with adoptive families in the USA. They take great interest in helping those who were not as fortunate as they and remain behind in orphanages. Others have parents who either served LDS missions in Bulgaria or who are current members of the One Heart Bulgaria organization and share their parents same enthusiasm for humanitarian work. Still others kids featured in the “Kid Power” section simply heard about the conditions in Bulgarian orphanages and want to contribute in whatever way they can. Thanks to them all!

Homemade crafts for sale: Kawai family kids

When my two daughters heard about the needs of orphans in Bulgaria, they came up with an idea to help. My oldest daughter had recently learned at a church activity how to make small paper boxes that can be used for gifts or to store jewelry. She decided that making the boxes in bright colors and selling them would be a fun way to invite her friends to help make a contribution to the orphans in Bulgaria. She asked her grandpa if she could make a poster explaining about the Bulgarian orphanage efforts and sell the boxes at his local place of business.

The girls invited several friends over for a service party!! Together, they made boxes that they are selling and donating the proceeds and additional donations to One Heart Bulgaria. Although it is a small contribution, finding a way for the girls to think about and serve the orphan children in Bulgaria has helped our family to be grateful for our own blessings and to feel the joy of helping others.

Gardner kids prepare gifts for orphans

All four of Deborah Gardner’s kids helped prepare gifts for the orphans their mother was going to visit when she went to Bulgaria this Spring. Working with their grandmother and mother, they stuck messages like “We care about you!” or “Don’t ever give up!” onto dozens of packs of gum which Deborah handed out to orphans at 3 orphanages. They also put those messages on lip glosses, and about 55 journals.

In the picture on the right you will also see some stuffed animals they bought and packed into the hospital kits for sick children. Sophia and Hannah are in back, Maya in front. Their brother Luke, who is not pictured, also helped. On the left: two of the Bulgarian girls who received gum.
